To Candidates.

From and after this date we will not accept candidates for county offices, or work for them without payment in advance.
This step we deem advisable because it is much easier to pay these fees than after an election, especially if those for whom work is done should be defeated.
Correspondents will not be allowed to give candidates favorable mention in their letters without paying the regular price, ten cents a line each insertion, for all such matter contained in their letters.

Outlaw, by the Rev. John R. Reagin, Dr. Sam. A. Marable and Miss

The parties will never look better.
Hope their gentle rays over the scene and left a sweet fragrance in many hearts. Many bright eyes threw their light over the waters, as they launched their bark upon the matrimonial sea. May there be no rough breakers, but may they sail over a smooth sea till they reach the other shore.

After the ceremony and congratulations, repaired to the dining room and paid our compliments to the elegant supper provided for the occasion. The occasion was one of pleasure and everybody seemed to be pleased. JOHN R. REAGIN.

To Kill Trees or Spruce.

There are three days this year when this must be done. When the sign is in the heart, on the dark of the moon in May, on the 24th, 25th and 26th of the month. By a single chip or bruise with an axe or other tool, so you strike the bark and bruise or cut the wood. No need to grub them up or cut them down, as they will certainly die within the year and never put up a sprout. This can only be done every fourth or fifth year, and this is the year when it can be done.

T. H. DAVIDSON,
in Auburn Conrauger.

We publish the above for the benefit of our bucolic friends who may have any pestiferous vegetation they may wish to get rid of; the remedy is simple and effective is certainly a great boon to farmers, it is at least worth a trial. Cut this out so as to not forget the date and let us know the result.

It is distressing to hear that there is a scarcity of corn in a State like Tennessee. The Banner says:
"There is a great scarcity of feed and seed corn in the country districts. Farmers in some of the adjoining counties are depending on Nashville for their supply. Corn along the upper river are almost entirely destitute of corn."

THE bold, bad burglars are opening the spring campaign with unusual activity. From all parts of the country accounts of their depredations are reported. They entered and ransacked the County Court Clerk's office at Nashville last night, but secured nothing of value.

THE Tennessee State Sunday-school Convention will meet at Memphis, April 12th proximo.
A large number of visitors and delegates from all parts of the State are expected. Gov. Hawkins and other prominent men will make addresses.

ANOTHER comet has been discovered. It is said to be very bright and has a distinct tail. It is a very pretty object, so small that it requires an instrument to see it.
It is three or four degrees north of the star Omicron in Hercules and is traveling slowly northward.

THE General Conference of the M. E. Church, South, will meet in Nashville on Wednesday, May 3rd, and will be in session three or four weeks. We learn that ample provision has already been made for the entertainment of the delegates.

SMALL-POX seems to be dying out in all parts of the country. The Knoxville Chronicle denies the aggravated reports of the great prevalence of the disease in Sevier county, East Tennessee. There is only one case so far developed at Edgettville Junction.

ALBERT H. THOMAS, a young lawyer and deputy sheriff, was foully assassinated near Memphis, Tenn., last Sunday night. The murderer is unknown, but is supposed to be a negro named Clint Hilliard, who Thomas had had indicted for highway robbery.

THE annual convention of the Y. M. C. A., for the middle district of Tennessee, held a most interesting session at Lebanon, and adjourned last Monday, to meet in this city, at the call of the Executive Committee.

PROF. JOHN S. COLLIER, President of the Y. M. C. A., of this city, was in attendance at the Convention of the Association at Lebanon, last week, and responded in behalf of the Convention to the address of welcome delivered by Col.
Stokes.

WE again repeat, that if our readers were good at cost, they would do well to go to Rice, Broadway & Co.'s, at once, or they may not get them at cost prices. They still have left a quantity of goods that can be bought at a bargain.

Rev. Dr. A. D. SEARS will talk on the interesting question of "The Sabbath" to-morrow afternoon at the rooms of the Y. M. C. A. Everybody invited.

THERE is an effort being made in this city to get the Rev. Geo. O.
Barnes, the mountain evangelist, to visit here. He might find work to do in this section of the moral vineyard.

MR. ALEX. DAVIDSON is now acting as librarian for the law library at the Court-house. He is polite and attentive, and will faithfully attend to the wishes of the bar.

MR. C. G. ROSENBLUM, ENTERpriser, accomplished architect, furnished the drawings for Holland's new Opera House to be built in Hopkinsville this summer. "This said it will be an elegant building."

THE poles for the telephone wires are now being erected, and soon Hopkinsville will have another substantial improvement.—South Kentuckian.

Our citizens will be pleased to learn that substantial improvements are going on in the suburbs of Clarksville.

From Port Royal.

EDITOR CHRONICLE.—In your last issue we read with pleasure Baker's camp-ground items, signed "Longfellow." The piece was historic, local, and poetical. We do not wonder that Maj. Baker, Parson Gossett and others, selected those grand old hills as their first Tennessee homes. From the former, we imagine the old camp-ground took its name, though it has long since been abandoned as a place of worship. Many years ago, it was the religious center, to which people gathered, (Methodists especially,) and pitched their tents for a season of spiritual enjoyment. During those camping seasons, our parents say they have heard the shouts of redeemed souls, when three miles distant from the old camp-ground.
But the good old days of "outing" have almost passed away. Pride, pompey, and formality, we lament to say, are making strenuous efforts to suppress it; although some of our noblest and purest Christians found peace and pardon, at good old Baker's campmeetings. It is said "That God sends teachers to every age, to every clime, and every race of men, with revelations suited to each growth," and, perhaps what some term formal religion, best suits the growth of this fast advancing age.

God bless the agencies which have restored Port Putnam to the pulpit. We have heard him and like him, too; with a good horse to ride over those sunlit hills, and up and down the sparkling waters of Parson's Creek, he cannot fail to improve in both body and spirit.

"Longfellow's" allusion to the "red man's whetstone" stirred our sympathetic soul. In thinking of the poor Indian, we are reminded of the words of a subdued old chiefman, who pathetically exclaimed:
"I'll weep for a season on bitterness for, my kindred have gone to the hills of the dead;
But the steel of the bow has been long away."

They have been driven to the far West, leaving us no page of their history, and no record of their deeds. Occasionally we see their almost obliterated foot, or pick up here and there a flint arrow head, the cutting and shaping of which, is unknown to the white man.

For the present, we doff you a pleasant adieu, by hoping that our late "discovered" Longfellow will not allow his pen to rust, or his inking to grow dry, ere we hear from him again.

Good-humoredly,
SANCHO PANZA.

Merchant's Meeting.

There was a large and earnest meeting of the most prominent and influential merchants of the city, held at the City Hall on last Thursday night, called for the purpose of consulting together and devising some plan by which they may be relieved of the unequal and oppressive privilege tax levied upon by the county and city.
Mr. Henry Frech was called to the chair and in a brief talk stated the object of the meeting. The subject was then fully and earnestly discussed by Messrs. Bloch, Herndon, Hurst, Cooke, Fox and others, and upon motion of Mr. Bloch, the chair appointed a committee of six merchants to petition the County Court and Board of Mayor and Aldermen in regard to the matter and see if the taxes could not be reduced. The following committee was appointed, Messrs. John Hurst, Chm'n, L. Bloch, W. F.
Coulter, Capt. Thos. Smith, J. J.
Cushman, Y. L. Williams. The meeting was quite a stormy one, and our merchants evidently have a just cause for grievance at the rate of privilege tax they are now forced to pay in order to carry on their business. The matter will be more fully discussed in the future, and we hope the County Court and City Authorities will give them a full hearing, and if they can reduce the tax do so. It was stated that in no other city in the State was the merchant's privilege tax so high as here. There is injustice somewhere and it ought to be remedied.

Messrs. John Ferguson, Jas. A.
Rollow and Rufus N. Rhodes, the committee appointed by the Alumni Association of the S. W. P. University, to select an orator to address the Alumni at the June commencement exercises, have invited the Rev. John Thompson Plunkett, of Charlotte, N. C., to deliver the address. The Rev. Mr. Plunkett is himself an alumnus of the University, and made a deserved reputation as an eloquent and finished speaker while a student at the institution. His many friends and admirers in this city, will be glad to see and hear him on this occasion and hope he will accept the invitation of the committee.

Persons.

Dick Aherm, the gentlemanly type, was down from Nashville this week.

Misses Mary Macrae and Sallie Anderson are visiting relatives in Nashville this week.

Mr. Stewart Dick, of Paducah, Ky., was on a visit to his aged mother during the week.

Mrs. Dr. Oliphant, of Houston county, has been visiting the family of J. S. Neblett this week.

Miss Maggie Wilkerson, one of the best and sweetest girls in the county, is visiting in the city.

Miss Virgie L. Finley and Mrs.
Sam. M. Anderson, after a most agreeable visit to relatives in this city, left for their home at Lebanon, Thursday morning.

Col. Sam. M. Gaines, formerly the brilliant editor of the Hopkinsville News, paid us a pleasant visit last week. Col. Gaines will assume his duties as First Assistant clerk of the Kentucky court of appeals on the first of next September.

Mr. H. C. Batts, the genial assistant editor of the Bowling Green Democrat, was visiting friends in the city and county the first of the week. Batts first began to wield the faber as "Local" for the CHRON-ICLE and we naturally feel a fatherly interest in him, and are glad to know that he and the Democrat are prospering.

The Ice Question.

EDITOR CHRONICLE.—A writer in the Tobacco Journal of the 21st who signs himself "Observer," complains greatly of our merchants and others for having bought their ice this year from Northern companies rather than from the local factory.
The fact is, as we have been informed, the ice factory men were given the preference in the matter and were offered fifty cents a hundred pounds for their ice during the year, but they refused and demanded about 30 cent. more.
One of our citizens, who had been in the business about twelve years, made arrangements with the local ice companies and with the railroads, by which ice could be put here at so low a figure that he was enabled to sell the ice at a profit.
The ice factory had rejected, and he contracted to furnish ice the year round, to certain large dealers for fifty cents a hundred pounds, and this ice, it ought to be added, is costing him delivered here about one-fourth of what it cost him heretofore, when he was compelled to retail at two cents a pound.

If one of our merchants should fail and his goods be sold at less than cost, everybody would flock to buy though the money might go to Northern creditors, and our home merchants be damaged by the loss of trade, "Observer" wants our people to pay a bonus of fifteen cents a hundred pounds to the ice factory in order to sustain home enterprise. This they cannot afford to do, but must buy ice, as they buy everything else, where they can get it the cheapest. Every man in this country is supposed to be encouraging home enterprise when he looks after his own interest.

FAIR PLAY.

MESSRS. BOWLING BRO. & TURN-LEY, proprietors of the Clarksville Ice Factory, have just gotten out one of their new ice wagons, made by Irvin & Alward, and will in a few days have another one, made by the same firm. They are now ready to deliver ice, promptly, to their customers in any part of the city. Any one giving notice to either of the firm or to the driver, will have their orders immediately supplied. They have a depot and office next door to the Franklin House, where one of the partners will always be found and will be glad to wait on any one.

THE press all over the land, is urging that Congress should at once, make a liberal grant towards the Mississippi river improvements.
This is one of the crying needs of the hour, and ought to be attended to without delay, so that the hundreds of laborers made destitute by the floods could be given employment and thus relieved from destitution and suffering.

MR. GEO. L. CARLISLE has moved his custom mills to the opposite side of Franklin street from the stand lately occupied by him, where he has a much larger and more commodious building. He has also extended his business and now deals in hay, corn, oats, meal, feed &c., &c., and is agent for some of the best farming implements manufactured, such as blades, mowers, hay rakes, plows, engines and separators &c. &c. He cordially invites you to call on him at the Clarksville Custom Mills, when in town and he will make it to your interest to buy of him.

A Banner for the C. C. G. V.

We are pleased to learn that there is a movement on foot among the ladies of the city, to present the C. C. G. V., with a beautiful silk flag. Mrs. Dr. J. McD. Massie kindly requests that all the ladies, both married and single, who may feel an interest in this generous undertaking will meet at her rooms—Mrs. Gann's house, on Monday at 1 o'clock, this p. m. This is a very laudable enterprise on the part of the ladies, and we can assure them that such an evidence of interest and friendliness will be greatly appreciated by our military company.

AN old negro man came to town last Saturday, sold his tobacco, and fell into the hands of some negro sharpers, who under the pretense of changing a twenty dollar bill for him, took his money and left him change and—forgot to come back.
The unsophisticated colored brother went home with twenty dollars less money than he ought to have, but with help more sense.

WE return thanks to the Hon.
W. C. Smith for a copy of his speech on "American Foreign Policy," delivered in the House of Representatives on Thursday, the 21st inst. It is a masterly treatment of the subject and reports from Washington state that the eloquent gentleman was warmly congratulated by his colleagues at the close.
